

Miss something this week?

warchilin66, 2018

Miss something this week? Here is your weekly rewind that will catch you up with all things Roadrunner Records.

Cavalera Conspiracy's Blunt Force Trauma is getting rave reviews! Check out the live footage that is included on the special edition version of the album.

(Read Story)

Opeth are hard at work recording their new album; announce change in line-up.

(Read Story)

Pick up Rockstar Energy Drink Mayhem Tickets before it is too late. For this weekend only you can pick up pre-sale tickets at a discounted price!

(Read Story)

Kentucky rockers Black Stone Cherry are back with a new album and you can download a song for FREE!

(Read Story)

Roadrunner Records freshman Madam Adam released their self-titled debut album this week. Check out their first single for "Sex Ain't Love" and pick up the album at iTunes.

(Read Story)

Ever wonder what it looks like from the stage? Theory of a Deadman give you a first person look!

(Read Story)

Win a ton of Free Shit from Roadrunner Records! Take a look at all the contests we are running this month.

(Read Story)

Roadrunner Records premiere A&R and demo submission site released their first ever sampler which includes 14 unsigned artists. Check out two featured artists and be sure to download the sampler for free.

(Bipolar Echo - Gutsy Female Fronted Rock)

(Laudanum Forest - Porcupine Tree Infused Psych Rock)